THE House Judiciary Committee are reported to be looking after matter for impeachment in the Johnson-Grant correspondence. If sufficient matter to justify that measure was not found in the report made by that Commitee at the opening of the session, it will not be found at all.

IN THE Senate yesterday the Finance Committee reported a substitute for Mr. Sherman's bill, which will be found in our telegraphic columns. The Committee devoted much time and study in the preparation of this bill, and report as an unit in its favor.

OUR friend Mr. Samuel P. Stephens, of Norristown, Montgomery county, we are pleased to learn, gives very decided satisfaction in the important position he holds at Harrisburg as Warrant Clerk in the Auditor General's Office. He is a gentleman of rare clerical abilities and scholastic attainments, and is, in every respect, admirably suited for the duties of his office.

Telegraphic Triumph.

We have before us a copy of the Pittsburgh GAZETTE, in which it is set forth in fat black type that there had been intelligence received from Europe inside of a double fortnight. That paper was printed so ne fifty years ago. In strange contrast we publish the following which we find in the Telegraph Journal of February 1st: At an early hour this morning the wires of the Western Union Telegraph Company from San Francisco to Valentia Cove, Cape Breton, and the wires of the New York, Newfoundland, and London Telegraph Company, from Plaister Cove to Heart's Content, were connected, and a brisk conversation commenced between these two continental extremes. Compliments were then passed between San Francisco and Valentia, Ireland, when the latter announced that a message was just then being received by the London direct. This was at 7:20 A. M., Valentia time, Feb. 21. At 7:21 A. M., Valentia time, the London message was started from Valentia for San Francisco; passed through Plaister Cove, at 2:35 A. M., New York time; was received in San Francisco at 11:21 P. M., San Francisco time, Jan. 31, and was at once acknowledged—the whole process occupying two minutes actual time, and the distance traversed about 14,000 miles.

Immediately after the transmission of the message referred to, the operator at San Francisco sent an eighty word message to Heart's Content in three minutes, which the operator at Heart's Content repeated back in two minutes and fifty seconds. Distance about 5,000 miles.

A Funny Dog.

While Mr. Dickens was reading in Washington, a full grown dog in attendance barked violently, alarming and disturbing the audience. The Washington Chronicle in referring to the sensation created by "Bowser", tells the following incident which occurred in Vermont some years ago:

Rev. Mr. D., a venerable and forcible expounder of the Gospel, was in the habit of frequently rousing and calling the special attention of his hearers to what he was saying, and among the regular attendants of the church was a large Newfoundland dog, who frequently planted himself upon his hind-quarters in front of the pulpit, and looked the minister squarely in the face. Under these circumstances, one Sabbath the reverend gentleman spoke out so loudly and energetically as to wake all the slumberers. "Here is an idea for you! I want you to take hold of it! Seize it!" Instantly the dog gave a personal application, and broke out with a ringing bow-wow! The whole congregation, even the deacon, found it as difficult to suppress laughter and return to sober business as did Mr. Dickens when he seemed to be so well appreciated by at least one funny dog.

PERSONAL.

—The New York World positively asserts that Mr. Adams, American Minister at London, has resigned, and says his successor has been decided upon. Is this successor to be Mr. Seward himself? There is an evident anxiety among "the ring" to get him out of the Cabinet.

—Baron Gerolt, Minister of the North German Confederacy, entertained on Monday evening a committee of leading German citizens, who called to congratulate him on his having presented his credentials and been received by the President as the plenipotentiary of more than thirty millions of Germans

—A Brussels letter to a Paris paper contains intelligence which will create a profound emotion on account of the painful circumstances connected with it. The Empress Carlotta was a few days back informed by their Majesties the King and Queen of the Belgians of the shocking catastrophe of Queretaro. The first movement of the Empress was to utter a cry of anguish, which was immediately followed by a flood of tears. Then, resuming all the firmness of her character, her Majesty became calm; she observed that for some time she had suspected that a great calamity must have taken place. She at once requested to have mourning provided for her. The Queen of the Belgians has since remained constantly with her sister-in law, who supports this cruel trial thus far without injury to her health.

—Mr. Paul F. Nicholson, for a long time the very competent dramatic critic of the World, is about to start a new paper, called the Town and Country. This is to be especially a dramatic paper, but attention will be paid to literature and some grace of style and rhetoric will be employed in the discussion of "amusements" to topics that are ordinarily treated with more regard for looseness than for finish of speech. Mr. Nicholson has engaged a corps of good writers, and his own tact and experience will combine their functions properly.

—Speaking of Shirley Brooke the London American says: In a world where clever men are sometimes ill natured and good tempered men are often very stupid, it is pleasant to encounter a laughing philosopher who is clever in many ways and out of humor with nothing.

—Mr. Gladstone, the eminent English statesman, recently performed at an amateur concert at Hawarden, and his efforts drew forth from the press the encouraging statement that "the right honorable gentleman is not a bad vocalist."

—Poor Vallandigham continues to be very bitter toward his party, who would not send him to the Senate. He has written still another article, where he predicts that the Republicans will carry Ohio by a decided majority, and that Pendleton will fail in securing the Democratic Presidential nomination.

—Governor Seymour announces for the third time, in a published letter, that his name is not to be brought before the Democratic National Convention. He asserts positively that he is not a candidate for the Presidency.

—At Scranton, Pa., Wednesday night, five buildings in a large block on Lackawana avenue were destroyed by fire. They were occupied by the Republicans office, Wilson's hat store, Meloim's liquor shop, Reon's produce warehouse, Morris' tailor shop, and several other shops, besides eight or ten families. Loss one hundred thousand dollars. Insured for sixty-five thousand dollars. The Republican saved its presses and engine.

VOLUME LXXXIII. PITTSBURGH, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1868 NUMBER 32.

FIRST EDITION.

MIDNIGHT.

Pennsylvania Legislature.

Passenger Railway to Temperanceville—Fees of Jury Commissioners and Sealer of Weights and Measures—Pittsburgh Gazette and the Oil Inspection Bill—Denial From Senator Connell—The Election Frauds—Sunday Car Bill—Bills Passed and Defeated in the House.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, Feb. 6, 1868.

SENATE.

PETITION AND REMONSTRANCE.

Mr. ERRETT presented a petition for a passenger railroad from Pittsburgh to Temperanceville.

Also, a remonstrance from Pittsburgh against limiting the pay of Jury Commissioners.

BILLS PRESENTED.

Mr. TAYLOR, of Beaver, introduced a bill repealing the act of April 11th, 1866, extending the limits of the borough of Beaver.

Mr. ERRETT, of Allegheny, presented a bill regulating the fees of the Sealer of Weights and Measures of Allegheny county—reducing the fees for testing platform scales.

PRIVILEGED QUESTION — PITTSBURGH GAZETTE AND THE OIL INSPECTION BILL.

Mr. CONNELL, of Philadelphia, rose to a privileged question, and read an editorial in the PITTSBURGH GAZETTE of yesterday, edited by Mr. F. B. Penniman, charging him with introducing a bill for the inspection of oils for the purpose of creating an office for his own benefit, and that Governor Geary had promised to appoint him to the place. Mr. Connell denounced these charges as false and entirely without foundation. He had never thought or even dreamed of applying for the place, and had no interest in the bill other than such as any representative should feel to protect the lives of his constituents from accidents arising from the use of adulterated oils. He had allowed the Allegheny Senators ample time to examine the bill, and had amended it so as to suit the views of their constituents. Mr. Penniman was responsible for this, and he would hold him responsible.

Mr. ERRETT, of Allegheny, said that while the name of Mr. Penniman appeared as the editor of the GAZETTE, he could not possibly have written an article so untrue and so utterly unjustifiable. It was probably the work of some subordinate. Mr. Penniman knew, as every intelligent man in the State, that Mr. Connell was not constitutionally eligible to any office created during his term as Senator.

Mr. ERRETT said he bore willing and cheerful testimony to the fact that Mr. Connell postponed the bill at his request until the oil men of Allegheny could be heard from, and consented to put in every amendment they suggested so as to make the bill acceptible to every one interested.

Mr. LOWRY, of Erie, said that the Pittsburgh newspapers were known to be "common scolds." For seven years he had been a Senator, and voted for the measures Pittsburgh papers wanted him to vote for, but he never received anything in return but the whip across the face. They keep at Harrisburg a set of villains who write these articles, thinking they could compel honest men to take off their hats to them or pay them. He charged them with keeping in these halls a set of blackguards. They ought to call home their dogs.

Mr. WALLACE, of Clearfield, also had been abused, and he was glad the Senators were nailing these falsehoods.

Mr. FISHER, of Lancaster, gave notice that he would hold these drabs of editors, reporters and correspondents who deliberately lied about him to a personal account.

Mr. RIDGEWAY, of Philadelphia, did not object to them lying, only that they didn't tell the whole truth.

Mr. SEARIGHT, of Fayette, said editors ought to be cautious; not publish sensations but facts.

Mr. GRAHAM, of Allegheny, coming down from the Speaker's stand, quoted from the Pittsburgh Commercial ridiculing his speech on the Connellsville bill. He replied that he did not think even six Senators knew the bill was going to pass unanimously. Messrs. Hughart and Scull did not think it would. So he made his speech in good faith. The article was intended to cast ridicule upon one who for long years had stood up and striven to pass the Connellsville restoration bill.

THE CONTESTED ELECTION CASE.

The Senate then adjourned until Monday evening, to allow the Committee on the contested election case of Robinson against Shugart to visit Wilkesbarre to investigate the alleged fraudulent issue of naturalization papers.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

PUBLIC BILLS PASSED FINALLY.

Relating to county rates and levies, providing for supplemental assessments.

Validating bounty payments to persons accredited to districts where they did not reside.

Senate resolutions relative to Secretary Stanton and General Grant.

Appropriating $172,631 to meet the deficit in the Soldiers' Orphan Department.

Urging the Secretary of State to demand from England the release of persons held upon mere suspicion of political offenses, and insisting upon a fixed policy in reference thereto.

PUBLIC BILLS DEFEATED.

Repealing the act compelling railroad and other corporations to pay counsel fees of plaintiffs in certain cases.

Requiring the county from which property is stolen to pay the expenses of the trial, &c., of the person charged.

Abolishing the days of grace on negotiable paper.

Abolishing the special assessors of bank stock and transferring their duties to the township and ward assessors.

LIQUOR LICENSE LAW.

The bill repealing the Liquor License Law of the last session was postponed until Wednesday.

SUNDAY CAR RUNNING.

Pending the discussion of the bill repealing the law preventing Sunday car running, the House adjourned.

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS.

BOROUGH OF MILLVALE.

An act has passed the House (and in all probability will pass the Senate) incorporating the borough of Millvale. The territory comprised consists of the Allegheny City Poor Farm, recently laid out in lots and many of them disposed of, a portion of the farm of William Semple, and the upper portion of Duquesne borough.

DISORDERLY CASES IN M'KEESPORT.

An act has been reported in the House empowering the burgess or any justice of the peace of the borough of McKeesport, in Allegheny county, against persons adjudged guilty of disorderly conduct to the county jail in default of payment of fine, for a period not less than twenty-four hours nor more than five days, at the discretion of the committing officer, and allowing the same fees and costs as are now received by the Mayor of the city in such cases, excepting the constable's fee is to have ten cents per mile.

Similar legislation will be asked for, we understand, by the authorities of the borough of Birmingham.

MECHANICS' LIENS.

An act has been read in the House supplementary to the Mechanics' Lien law, extending it to all improvements, engines, pumps, tanks, machinery and fixtures in any way connected with or appurtenant to oil or other refineries, and to all tanks for the storage of petroleum, coal or carbon oil, or the products thereof, whether said tanks be connected with a refinery or otherwise, and on all pumps, machinery and fixtures connected, and to all mechanics, machinists, material-men, and contractors doing work or furnishing materials or articles therein; Provided, That no lien shall be filed in virtue of this supplement for a less amount than one hundred dollars, and where the tank with its machinery and fixtures shall not be connected with or appurtenant to a refinery, the same shall be considered as a building within the meaning of the act of Assembly supplemented, but no lien shall be filed against the same unless the entire cost and value thereof shall exceed the sum of two thousand dollars. The act is to be held and construed to be applicable to the tanks, improvements, engines, pumps, machinery and fixtures erected, repaired or put up by the mechanics, machinists, material-men, and contractors entering liens thereon.

ADDITIONAL RIGHTS TO WIDOWS.

The House general Judiciary Committee have reported (with negative recommendation) an act to secure to widows additional rights of property, and to enable them to sue for in actions at law for injuries done their children. It provides:

SEC. FIRST: That hereafter when any married man shall die intestate, the ownership of all property, whether real or personal, acquired during marriage, shall become vested in the widow of such deceased husband, in the same manner and with like effect as he would have became vested with the ownership of such property on the death of his wife, and any creditor of such deceased married man shall have the right to issue process against the widow for any debt or chose in action of him from her deceased husband.

SEC. SECOND: That hereafter the widow and mother shall have the same right to recover in actions of law or equity for any injury done to her child or children that the father would have if living.

TO VALIDATE MARRIAGES.

The local Judiciary Committee of the House have reported an act to validate certain marriages and legitimize the issue thereof, providing that all marriages heretofore contracted between parties within the degrees of affinity as prescribed in the thirty-ninth section of the act of 21st March, 1806, of which issue is born, are legalized, and the child or children of such marriage shall have all the rights and privileges of children born in lawful wedlock; Provided, that nothing in the act shall relate to marriages within the degrees of consanguinity as now prohibited by law.

SUPREME COURT REPORTERS.

An act has been reported from the general Judiciary Committee repealing the second section of the act of 11th April, 1845, providing for the appointment of a reporter of the decisions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and authorizing the said reporter to publish all opinions of the Supreme Court on all constitutional questions.

INDEXES TO RECORDS OF PUBLIC OFFICES

The local Judiciary Committee of the Senate have reported (with negative recommendation) an act relating to the transcribing of the indexes to the records in the several public offices in the county of Allegheny, as follows:

WHEREAS, It appears that from inaccuracies, obliterations and other causes there are no full and complete indexes to the records in some of the public offices in the county of Allegheny, and in others of the said offices the indexes, by reason of long and constant use, have become obliterated and illegible; therefore

Be it enacted, &c., That it shall and may be lawful for the Court of Common Pleas of the county of Allegheny, whenever it shall appear to them, or to the said Court to be necessary, to make an order requiring indexes, direct and ad sectum, to be made, or the old indexes to be renewed, as the necessity of the case may require, in the office for the recording of deeds, the office of the Register of Wills, the office of the Prothonotary of the District Court and Court of Common Pleas, the office of the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the peace, and the office of the Clerk of the Orphans' Court of said county, and the necessary drawing or transcribing such indexes shall be made under the said county in the same manner that other expenses of the county are paid.

That it shall be the duty of the said Court of Common Pleas, as soon as practicable after the passage of this act, to make an order directing the Recorder of Deeds in and for said county of Allegheny to make and prepare full and complete indexes to all the deed and mortgage books in his office, which indexes shall be prepared in strict accordance with such plan as the said Court in its discretion may direct: Provided, That it shall be lawful for the said Court, in the exercise of its discretion, in making such order, to order and direct the indexes so to be prepared as to contain the date of the acknowledgment of the deed, lease and mortgages, the date of record, the name of the grantors and grantees, the volume and page where recorded, the number of acres or number of city or town lots and a short description of the location of the land; And provided further, That it shall be lawful for the said Court, if in its opinion the same would be beneficial to the public, the Governor, to direct that the said indexes, when so prepared by the Recorder of Deeds, shall be printed and bound in such convenient form as the said Court shall direct, at the expense of said county, and the said county is hereby authorized to copyright the same and to sell as many copies thereof as the Commissioners of said county may deem advisable for the purpose of defraying the expenses of preparing and printing the same.

SEC. 3. That the said Recorder of Deeds, Register of Wills, Prothonotary of the District Court and Court of Common Pleas, Clerk of the Court of General Quarter Sessions of the Peace, and Clerk of the Orphans' Court, shall each receive such reasonable compensation for his services in making or transcribing the indexes in his proper office as the said Court may direct, and each of the said officers and his sureties shall be held responsible for the correctness and accuracy of his work in making or transcribing such indexes; provided, that the said Court may, if it be deemed necessary, appoint a commission, to consist of not less than one nor more than three disinterested and discreet persons, to examine and inform the Court as to the accuracy of the work and the amount of compensation to be allowed to the said officers respectively in making or transcribing the said indexes.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, February 6, 1868.

SENATE.

The CHAIR laid before the Senate a memorial of the Arkansas Convention, setting forth that as the State officers are enemies of the government, and persecute loyalists, the Convention asked to be authorized to appoint new officers. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Petitions were presented for the removal of the duty on raw jute, and for the reduction of the army and navy. The latter was from the officers of Green Bay, asking that a portion of the money thus saved be applied to the improvement of the harbor at the mouth of Green river. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Messrs. SHERMAN and HENDERSON presented formally from the Committee their respective bills, and gave notice they would call them up as soon as the reconstruction debate was closed.

Mr. Henderson's bill repeals the limitation of the National Banking Law with regard to the amount of the circulation of National Banks. It allows any banking association depositing with the Treasurer of the United States the necessary securities, the issue of National Bank currency not exceeding eighty per cent. of the par value of the bonds so deposited, provided, whenever the amount of United States notes and circulating notes of National banks combined shall be in excess of seven hundred millions dollars, the Treasury is authorized to withdraw and cancel as rapidly as possible the United States notes to the extent of such excess. And the circulating notes of United States notes outstanding shall be reduced to two hundred and fifty millions.

The Committee on Finance reported a substitute for Mr. Sherman's bill, introduced by Mr. Edward Atkinson, of Boston, and referred to Committee on Taxation.

Resolved, That no revision of the revenue system of the United States can be complete which does not involve an adequate reduction of taxation under the names of a tariff of duties upon imports, and that such adjustment should be made for the purpose of securing the largest amount of revenue from such a tariff with the least injury to the productive power of the people.

Resolved, That in such adjustment of the tariff, all private or special legislation for the benefit of any interest, the only object aimed at should be the public good.

The consent of the Convention was given that a speech prepared by General Aldridge should be printed in the records of the session.

Communications were received inviting the members of the Convention to visit the State House during the session of Legislature. Accepted.

The Convention adjourned till ten o'clock to-morrow.

The several Committees then actively proceeded to work.

The grand concert in Music Hall in the evening was largely attended and was a very enjoyable affair.

A Committee appointed on permanent organization or officers reported General G. H. Thomas for President, General W. D. Whipple and Captain Fisher, for Secretaries, and General Gross Treasurer. A Vice President from each State represented in the Army of the Cumberland was chosen. The report of the Committee was adopted with great applause. The Society adjourned till nine o'clock today. The banquet will take place tonight, when General Sherman will deliver an address. The meeting is a grand success. Large numbers of the former officers and soldiers of the Army of the Cumberland were in attendance and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

Mr. Weathernell, of Philadelphia, offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Agriculture and Manufactures to consider the subject of the reduction of taxation and to prepare a memorial to Congress urging the importance of such a reduction. Adopted.

Mr. Brunot, of Pittsburgh, offered the following:

Resolved, That in view of the probable reduction of the premium on gold, and the fact that a return to specie payment will be equivalent to a reduction of duties on foreign production to less than the standard required for revenue, it is expedient to adopt a sliding scale by which duties on all foreign productions shall be augmented pari passu with the decline of gold premium. Referred to Committee on Currency and Finances.

George J. Bazely, of Philadelphia, offered a resolution that the Convention recommend to Congress the adoption of a Free Banking Law, the circulation to be based on national securities, and the number of banks and amount of banking capital to be regulated by the natural law of supply and demand, the details to be the same as those of the National Banking Law, with such improvements as experience may suggest. Referred to Currency Committee.

E. B. Ward, of Detroit, offered the following:

Resolved, That the Congress of the United States be and hereby are requested to pass such act declaring all contracts which are specifically in writing made payable in gold or gold coin by the parties thereto, shall be payable in gold according to the terms of the same.

Referred to Committee on Finance and Currency.

The following resolutions were introduced by Edward Atkinson, of Boston, and referred to Committee on Taxation.

Resolved, That no revision of the revenue system of the United States can be complete which does not involve an adequate reduction of taxation under the names of a tariff of duties upon imports, and that such adjustment should be made for the purpose of securing the largest amount of revenue from such a tariff with the least injury to the productive power of the people.

Resolved, That in such adjustment of the tariff, all private or special legislation for the benefit of any interest, the only object aimed at should be the public good.

The consent of the Convention was given that a speech prepared by General Aldridge should be printed in the records of the session.

Communications were received inviting the members of the Convention to visit the State House during the session of Legislature. Accepted.

The Convention adjourned till ten o'clock to-morrow.

The several Committees then actively proceeded to work.

The grand concert in Music Hall in the evening was largely attended and was a very enjoyable affair.

THE NEW BRITISH MINISTER.

The new British Minister will be received in his diplomatic capacity by the President to-morrow. Those who have anticipated any allusion to the Alabama claims in the respective addresses will be disappointed.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1868.

THE Senate Finance report is expected within a few days. The delay thus far is attributable to the desire expressed by the members that their action be unanimous. The prevailing opinion in the Committee is in favor of a low rate of interest, say not to exceed four or four and one-half per cent. in every scheme for funding the national debt in long bonds.

WE acknowledge the receipt in pamphlet form of the very interesting and entertaining annual report of John Harper, Esq., President of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital Association. It is a concise history of that organization since the day of its charter, and discloses the deep study and high scholastic attainments of its public spirited and benevolent author

IT IS WELL KNOWN that most of the National Banks have considerable amounts invested in government bonds beyond what are deposited in the Treasury Department assecurity for their notes in circulation. Mr. Henderson, of Missouri, has reported to the Senate a bill authorizing any bank to deposit the bonds it holds and receive eighty per cent. of the full amount in circulating notes, which will enable them to double their gains on that portion of their investment.

THE Commercial, on Wednesday, in referring to the report of Council proceedings, modestly remarked:

"It is presumed that the fact has not escaped attention that those for our columns are the only complete reports made of the Council proceedings."

If any body did foolishly presume such a thing the presumption was destroyed by that same journal yesterday entering into a correction of an all-important error its infallible reporter made in noting the action of Councils on the Passenger Railway bill before the State Legislature. The GAZETTE had no such correction to make, as its report of Councils was correct in every particular.

IN CONNECTION with the anticipated completion of the Connellsville Railroad, affording a direct communication between this city and Baltimore, it is deserving of mention that Messrs. A. Schumacher & Co. announce that the North German Lloyd will put on two screw steamships of twenty-five hundred tons burthen and seven hundred horse power each, which will make regular monthly trips hereafter between Baltimore and Bremen. The first vessel will leave Bremen on the 1st of March next, taking her departure from Baltimore on her return voyage on the 1st of April. These steamers will touch at Southampton going and coming.

THE Commercial Congress, in session at Boston, is a highly important body and its actions will be watched with much interest by the entire country. Such gatherings should be productive of more good fruits than generally follow them. Their deliberations partake more of the character of the debating society than of a conclave of business men with vast personal interests at stake, and the prosperity of the country largely depending on their action. From such a collection of the representatives of the brain, enterprise and capital of the country, as now found in Boston, much practical benefit should result, and the National Legislature should turn to it for some light and instruction on the important financial questions of the hour.

ON WEDNESDAY LAST we repeated in these columns a report that Senator CONNELL designed the Inspectorship of Oils provided for in the bill introduced by him into the Senate for his own enjoyment, and that Gov. GRARY had promised him the appointment in case the bill should become a law. We stated distinctly that we did not vouch for the accuracy of this report, but that it reached us with such definiteness that we thought best to state it in order that the persons implicated might make denial if they thought proper.

Yesterday Mr. CONNELL, in his place, referred to our remarks, charging us with making a direct accusation against him in the matter, and pointedly denying that there was any foundation in fact for the statement.

Now, we submit that it is better than that this damaging report should continue to be circulated, in various forms, throughout the Commonwealth. The public now understand that Mr. CONNELL denies the incrimination, and we hold him to be debtor to us for the opportunity he used of exonerating himself.

But, let Mr. CONNELL reflect a moment on the circumstances of the case. He introduced a bill, for which there was no popular demand, to create a new office, the emoluments of which it is estimated by intelligent men in the oil trade would amount to a snug $100,000 a year. If the press or the people, or both, had made loud complaints of the adulteration of oils, and had demanded an Inspectorship, and if the compensation of that officer had been fixed at a moderate amount, the whole thing would have appeared reasonable, and would have excited no suspicion that a rich place was to be created simply to have a rich place to fill. This imposing an annual tax on a single branch of industry to the amount of $100,000, to feed a single office-holder, is cutting deep enough to start uncharitable inferences.

STATE LUNATIC HOSPITAL.

The Trustees and Superintendent of the State Lunatic Hospital of Pennsylvania, located at Harrisburg, have presented their annual report to the Governor of the Commonwealth. On perusing it, we find that the institution has been deing as the other insane public asylumns have been, as much good as its dimensions will allow; that the number of patients under treatment has been larger than the buildings were intended to accommodate, and that the expenses of the year have been heavier than the appropriations made by the Legislatures.

On the first of January, 1867, there were 327 patients in the hospital, 181 of whom were males, and 146 females; 170 were admitted during the year, of whom 99 were males and 71 females; 95 males and 62 females were discharged during the year. Of this number 51 were restored, 39 improved, 33 were stationary, and 34 died. On the 31st of December, 1867, 185 males and 155 females remained in the hospital. There was a decided increase in the number of patients treated during the year, and the wards of the hospital have been crowded. Early in the summer the pressure was so great that the Board was forced to refuse admission to all save recent cases of insanity, and they have never yet been able to recall that order, nor do they see any prospect of being able to do so during the coming year.

Knowing as we do the extremely crowded state of Dixmont, and finding now that the State hospital is in the same condition, we think that the Legislature should examine into this thing, and provide amply for all these, the most afflicted of the citizens of the Commonwealth.

Notwithstanding the crowded state of the wards, however, the health of the whole household at this hospital has been remarkably good, and we find of the 34 deaths during the year, 19 were caused by the exhaustion of chronic mania; 4 by exhaustion of acute mania; 1 by injuries from another patient; 1 by injuries from a railroad train; 5 by disease of the brain, and 4 by disease of the lungs.

The buildings have been somewhat increased during the year, and a great improvement effected in the arrangement of the interior; further improvements, however, are delayed until other appropriations render them possible. These facts we glean from the two reports, but the report of Dr. Curwen, the Superintendent, is too able to admit of much curtailing. The author himself is one of the greatest authorities on this subject now living, and has written a dignified, exhaustive and clear report, not only on the state of the hospital, but also referring to some of the causes of the rapid increase in the number of lunatics. Many of his statements are facts which are absolutely startling, but none the less true, and Dr. Curwen deserves the thanks of the people of the State for thus clearly and forcibly bringing them to the notice of their legislators.

THE continuance of the cold weather and general scarcity of labor combine to keep hundreds of persons in this neighborhood in poverty and want. The office of the Guardians of the Poor is daily thronged with applicants for relief of all sges, sizes and conditions, and with the scanty means at their disposal the gentlemen having charge of the distribution find it impossible to materially assist any of the unfortunate paupers. They afford in nearly every case temporary relief, and in cases where the applicants are feeble or old, they are committed to the Poor House, which is at the present time uncomfortably crowded. The private associations for the relief of the poor are heavily taxed, but through admirable management and wise discrimination, have succeeded in performing a vast amount of good towards their suffering fellow men. It is a fact worthy of note that a large percentage of our paupers come from the neighboring country districts seeking employment. They are able bodied and willing, but our labor market is over-stocked, and they cannot obtain anything to do in the way of work, and in the loneliness of a great city, without friends or acquaintances, and what is worse, without money, they are forced to go from door to door seeking alms. We say to our country friends to remain at home and not flock into the city for employment, as our own mechanics and laborers, who are well known and capable, are idle in hundreds, and can barely sustain themselves. It is better to stay on a farm without work to do than to rush into an overcrowded city, without acquaintance or money, in the vain hope of obtaining remunerative employment.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

HISTORY OF THE UNITED NETHERLANDS: From the death of William the Silent to the Twelve Years' Truce. By John Lothrop Motley, D. C. L., author of the "Rise of the Dutch Republic." In four volumes.—Vol. III. 1590-1600. With portraits. New York: Harper & Bros., Publishers. For sale by W. A. Gildenfenney, Fifth street, Pittsburgh.

Reference has already been made to this valuable work. Such publications enrich literature, and elevate the standard to the position it should occupy. In this history we have not only depicted in graphic language the struggle of the Netherlands for liberty of thought and religion, but a narrative of events embodying purity of style and gorgeousness of thought which gives the reader a feast of reason and flow of soul. The cultivation of taste for such works will leave its impress upon the mind for all time to come. Dr. Motley, in referring to the struggle of the United Provinces against Philip of Spain, and the progress of the Republic, says it, in spite of her geographical disadvantages, she achieved so much, how much vaster might her power have grown, how much stronger through her example might popular institutions throughout the world have become, and how much more pacific the relation of European tribes, had nature been less niggardly in her gifts to the young commonwealth. The wonderful blessings our Republic enjoys in natural advantages, in comparison with the Netherlands, are brought out in marked contrast by the distinguished author. Persons who have purchased the first and second volumes will need the third and fourth. We are not surprised to hear that the work is having a large sale. We may refer to this work again more extensively, if the previous volumes come before us.

LITTLE DORRITT. By Charles Dickens. People's Edition. With illustrations by H. K. Browne. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by W. A. Gildenfenney, Pittsburgh.

This edition of Dickens is worthy of the praise it receives, because each volume is printed on fine white paper, from large clear type, leaded, Long Primer in size. These volumes are also substantially bound and present a neat appearance. This is the twelfth book of the series. "Little Dorrit," like "David Copperfield" and "Dombey and Son," are household words. The thrilling interest of this volume is a fact too well known to need more than to announce it.

GEMMA. By T. A. Trollope, Author of "Lindesfarn Chase," etc. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by W. A. Gildenfenney, Pittsburgh.

This racy story of Italian life is brimful of interest. It is sketchy and pencilled in graphic language. The descriptions of the city of Seina, Savona and Maremma are full of romantic interest, and to persons familiar with Italian scenes, the work will richly repay perusal, as well as others. Trollope is quite a favorite with novel readers. The book is well printed and substantially bound.

DAVID COPPERFIELD. By Charles Dickens With illustrations. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co., 92 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

This volume is one of the "Charles Dickens Edition," and is held in high esteem for its admirable arrangement, and the elegant manner in which it is gotten up. The head lines, with text of each page, are a great convenience, and a decided improvement. Taking the book throughout, it is a neat affair, both as it regards type, paper and binding. It is portable and not a very expensive work either.

WOMAN'S WRONGS: A COUNTER-IRRITANT. By Gail Hamilton. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co., 92 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

The book is mainly devoted to answering some theories presented by Dr. John Todd in his work on "Woman's Rights." The caustic style of dealing with the Doctor will be questioned by many. There is, however, aside from the point under discussion, some severe thrusts at such writers as Dr. Todd, woven in vigorous words. The keen edge of the author in all her writings, have made them popular. It will repay perusal, though many may differ very widely with the author. It will doubtless have a large sale.

DICKENS' NEW STORIES. Containing "Hard Times" and "Pictures from Italy." By Charles Dickens. People's Edition. With illustrations by Marcus Stone. Philadelphia: T. B. Peterson & Brothers. Pittsburgh: W. A. Gildenfenney.

This is the thirteenth book of the "People's Edition." Hard Times is presented in three parts—"Sowing," "Reaping," and "Gathering," then follows the admirable "Pictures of Italy." We have over and over again commended this edition, for its fine type, paper, and binding, and withal so cheap. The edition is passing through the press, in weekly volumes. Of the various editions, this one has decided merit. It will doubtless have a large circulation.

STORIES OF THE GORILLA COUNTRY. By Paul Du Chaillu. New York: Harper & Brothers. Pittsburgh: W. A. Wildenfenney.

Du Chaillu is entitled to the gratitude of young people for the vast fund of information given of his strange adventures in that far off country. The rollicking style of the author renders the work attractive and popular. Messrs. Harpers have brought out the book in superb style.

PETERSON'S CHEAP EDITION OF DICKENS' WORKS. We have received from Gildenfenny, on Fifth street, the twelfth and thirteenth book of this series, "David Copperfield," and "Sketches by Boz." This edition is published at the very low price of twenty-five cents per book. It is a marvel how such a stout pamphlet can be afforded at that price. It is well printed, and presents an attractive appearance.

THE AMERICAN ECCLESIASTICAL ALMANAC, FOR MINISTERS AND LAYMEN. By Prof. Alexander J. Schem. New York: Fredk Gerhard, Ag't, 16 Day street.

Prof. Schem has for years enjoyed a high reputation as a compiler of religious matter. The pamphlet shows the patient research of the author, and, in its convenient form it will prove a valuable aid to ascertain statistics of a religious character.

THE BANKRUPT LAW of the United States. Edited by Edward Avery and George B. Hoadly, Counsellors at Law. Boston: Little, Brown & Co.

This is a volume of 488 pages, designed specially for the use of lawyers. It contains the text of the Bankrupt Law of 1867, with copious notes, embracing the leading American and English authorities, and marginal references to the various American and English Bankrupt Laws. It has, moreover, an Appendix, containing the general orders or rules, and the forms of proceedings in bankruptcy as promulgated by the Supreme Court of the United States, and the United States Bankrupt Law of 1841.

This is incomparably the fullest and most exhaustive exposition of the laws relating to bankruptcy that has so far appeared in this country. Carefully prepared by competent members of the legal profession, it is made complete up to the present time, and will be found a valuable accessory to all lawyers engaged in that department of practice.

A STORMY LIFE. A Novel. By Lady Georgiana Fullerton. New York: D. Appleton & Co. Pittsburgh: For sale by Henry Miner.

The three volumes of the original edition are indeed in one, and it is embellished with illustrations by Gaston Fay.

THE SCIENCE OF KNOWLEDGE. By J. G. Fichte. Translated from the German, by A. E. Kroeger. Philadelphia: Lippincott & Co. Pittsburgh: For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co.

This is a philosophical treatise, not upon one special department of knowledge, but upon all knowledge as a science. The scheme of it is not only to give the Science of Knowledge itself its own form, but to give all other possible sciences their's; to make certain the validity of this form for all other sciences. This, it is manifest, can be thought possible only on condition that every thing which is to be a proposition of any other science must be already involved in some proposition of the science of knowledge, and hence must have obtained its proper form already in that science.

The co-relation of all the departments of knowledge is understood, in a general way. No truth stands alone, but derives support from, and gives support to, all other truths. The science of knowledge covers the whole field of thought and investigation.

From the nature of the case this book is abstract and metaphysical. Whoever has had no special training in that line will find the author as unintelligible as if he had written in Chinese; while those who have become habituated to the metaphysical, and have a natural aptitude for it, will find him abounding in the most fruitful suggestions.

THE WHITE ROSE. By G. J. Whyte Melville. Philadelphia: Lippincott & Co. Pittsburgh. For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co.

Mr. Melville has won an enviable place in the higher walks of fiction, which he fully sustains in this new venture.

DOMBEY & SON. By Charles Dickens. New York: D. Appleton & Co. Pittsburgh: H. Miner.

Another installment of the 35 cent edition.

RESETTLED ENGLAND. Part LXX. New York: D. Van Ostrand. Pittsburgh: For sale by H. Miner.

Central Pacific Railroad Bonds—Chance of Price.

The sales of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Central Pacific Railroad Company have recently been so rapid and extensive that the full amount which the Company had proposed to sell at the original price of 90 and interest, has been marketed, and the price has been advanced to par and accrued interest.

The progress of the road, the prosperous condition of the Company's affairs, their abundant cash resources, and high credit, would seem to fully justify the advance in the price of their First Mortgage Bonds, and to afford a sufficient guarantee of an active demand at the advanced rate.

A Sufferer from Dyspepsia

Is of all men the most miserable, and how very prevalent is this disease among all classes. The cause of this malady are so numerous that it would require a volume to describe them. The primary cause, however, is a disturbance of the digestive organs the food, instead of undergoing that chemical change which should fit it for the sustainment of the system, often lies for hours in the same state as when first taken; in this case there is a feeling of an oppressive weight in the stomach, the sleep is disturbed, and the whole body seems utterly exhausted and broken down. Yet this universal and distressing malady is controlled and cured, speedily, safely and surely, by

Truth Stranger than Fiction

NEWARK, Licking Co., Ohio, Aug. 19, 1867.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen: My wife having received much benefit from your Bitters, I deem it my duty to give testimony in their favor. About one and a half years since she had a very severe attack of Dysentery, or Cholera Morbus, which became chronic and continued for the above period of time, baffling the skill of all physicians in the county. We finally became discouraged, and gave up all hopes of her recovery, when, by accident, my attention was called to your most valuable Bitters, of Messrs. Collins & Thurston, Druggists, handing me one of your circulars. Finding them recommended for Bloody Flux I bought one bottle, and commenced giving it according to directions; and before one third of the bottle had been taken she was entirely cured, and enjoys perfectly good health at this time.

Most respectfully yours,
W. D. NUTTER.

BRANCHVILLE, Ala., March 11, 1867.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Sirs: I am happily able to express my gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the use of your HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. I have been afflicted with Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia for more than five years, from which I suffered the most excruciating torture, and for which I found no permanent relief. I became melancholy and unhappy; my constitution was fast breaking down by using mercury. Accidentally meeting with one of your Almanacs I induced me to procure a few bottles of your Bitters, which afforded me very great relief; and in my sincere opinion that they will soon effect its permanent cure. I was pronounced incurable, and my recovery through your pills is little short of a miracle. My neighbors express surprise at seeing me so much improve in health, and look upon my rapid recovery as wonderful.

Gratefully yours,
R. H. F. NEWTON, P. M.

Chronic Diseases.

The functions of the human body give way, usually one at a time. A disordered liver, or a slight irritation of the bronchial tubes, an obstruction in the skin or of the renal organs, are sure to be followed by pains and aches in various parts, according to the extent of the organic or functional injury. A man afflicted with dyspepsia will soon find more than the stomach at fault. The food that he swallows fails to renew the natural wear and waste, the worn out matter is deposited in some nook or cranney, where it causes irritation or pain, when it ought to be thrown off and carried out of the system. Hundreds and thousands of just such sufferers have been relieved and restored to health and vigor by a few bottles of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, which not only imparts tone to the stomach and digestive organs, but likewise enriches the blood with the elementary principles needful to the restoration of the vital energy of the system. Be careful when you ask for it to get DR. KEYSER'S, for that is the kind, and the only kind, that has cured the numberless cases of disordered and broken constitutions. It was that which cured Mr. Boyd. It was that which cured John Tilsall. It was that which cured Margaret McFarland. It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher which cured all the old chronic cases which we have published from time to time in these columns. Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher has cured more cases of chronic diseases than any medicine of recent origin. Sold by the gross, dozen, or single bottle, at the Doctor's great medicine store, No. 140 WOOD STREET.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE has been enlarged to the same size as the Daily, and is now the largest, cheapest and best weekly family newspaper in the State. It should be in the house of every farmer, mechanic and business man. It gives each week forty solid columns of current news by telegraph and mail, the leading editorials of the daily, and a choice selection of literary and scientific items, together with everything important pertaining to the world of politics. Its agricultural columns will be edited in such a manner as to find favor with the farmer and gardener. The market reports of the WEEKLY GAZETTE are by common consent acknowledged to be the standard authority for both buyers and sellers, and its commercial circular in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Western Virginia are without equal. The files of the GAZETTE are used continually by the Civil Courts of Allegheny County, as reference in important issues, to determine the ruling prices in the markets at the time of the business transaction in dispute.

Our Agents will favor us by getting up their clubs at once, and endeavoring, their treasonable to expire, as we are anxious that none of our readers should be deprived of a week's issue. Additions to clubs can be made at any time, at yearly rates. Postmasters and Merchants are requested to act as Agents.

TERMS FOR THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

BY VIRTUE OF AN ORDER issuing out of the Orphans' Court of Allegheny County, I will offer for sale on the premises, on

The following Real Estate, the property of ALEXANDER BURNS, late of said township, deceased, to wit:

The undivided one-half part of a certain farm in Fawner township, Allegheny county, containing Two Hundred Acres, (200 acres,) more or less, bounded on the northwest by lands of Andrew McHenry, Jacob Guy, Oliver Burns, on the north by lands of Samuel Hood, on the north by land of John Byers, on the west by land of Tannehill's heirs; on the south by lands of Thomas Burns' heirs; and on the east by lands of

The Pittsburgh Gazette

TO LET CIGAR.
BY CHARLES SPRAGUE.

Yes, social friend, I love thee well,
In learned doctor's sipte;
Thy clouds all other clouds dispel,
And wrap me in delight
What though they tell, with phizzes long,
My years are sooner passed,
I would reply, with reason strong,
They're sweeter while they last.
And oft, mild friend to me thou art
A monitor, though still;
Though spent, a lesson to my heart,
Beyond the premier's skill.
Thou'rt like the page of worth, who gives
To goodness every day,
The odor of whose virtues lives
When he has passed away.
When in the lonely evening hour,
Attended by but thee,
Our history's varied page I pore,
Man's fate in thine I see.
Of his thy snowy column grows,
Then breaks and falls away,
I trace how mighty realms thus rose,
Thus tumbled to decay.
A while, like thee, earth's master burn,
And smoke and fume around,
And then, like thee, to ashes turn,
And mingle with the ground.
Life's but a leaf adroitly rolled,
And time's the wasting breath,
That late or early we behold,
Gives all to dusty death.
From beggar's frieze to monarch's robe,
One common doom is pass'd;
See on Nature's works, the swelling globe,
Must all burn out at last.
And what is he who smokes thee now!—
A little moving heap,
That soon like thee to fate must bow,
With thee in dust must sleep.
But though thy ashes down ward go,
Thy essence rolls on high;
Thus, when my body must lie low,
My soul shall cleave the sky.

EPHEMERIS.

—On Saturday Charles Dickens had the honor of dining with Senator Sumner.

—There were but some 5,000 persons married in St. Louis during the year 1867.

—Lucy Stone is again on the war path. Lectures from her are as heavy as her name.

—Prof. Blot has raised a breeze in New York with his eating-house project. —Boston Post.

—Bryant is going to prepare a memorial paper on the life and genious of Fitz Greene Halleck.

—Mr. Gladstone, the statesman, is also a vocalist, and occasionally lends his aid to amateur concerts.

—Madame Ristori was called before the curtain five times on the occasion of her first appearance in Havana.

—The New York Sun says that John T. Hoffman will certainly be the next Democratic candidate for President.

—Olive Logan having, we presume, failed in everything else, is about to make her debut as a humorous lecturess.

—It is reported that Sir Morton Peto will resign his seat in parliament on the approaching re-assembling of that body.

—Soprano singers should emigrate to London. A soprano singer there gets $20,000 a month for services which are not heavy.

—The Springfield Republican proposes to hang Justice Field. It might do very well but would probably be too good for him.

—Between August and January last the population of Toledo, Ohio, is said to have increased nearly one-fifth. It is now upwards of 30,000.

—Samuel Lover, the Irish novelist and song writer, is engaged in collecting his complete poetical works, which he proposes publishing shortly.

—Ashtabula, Ohio, it is said, had a storm of black snow the other day. We would more readily believe the statement if it had been in Oberlin.

—A prominent New York politician says that Grant stands no chance at Chicago. Just so. There is no chance about it—he has a dead certainty.

—The great increase in the price of living is attracting much attention from the English press. We weader what they would do with a year of our prices.

—One of the stills of Simonin and Company's oil refinery in Philadelphia, exploded on Tuesday; sixty barrels of oil were in it and burned. No one was hurt.

—The King and Queen of the Society Islands have adopted a couple of infant girls who are united in a manner similar to that in which the Siamese twins are joined.

—Twenty engines have been taken off of the track of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, and one thousand employees discharged from the work shops of the company.

—Prince Humbert evidently cannot afford to be disconsolate very long for his fiancee, who was burned to death not long ago in Vienna. He is to marry a pretty Princess in Italy.

—A New York Tribune correspondent is dreadfully shocked at the torture which death by hanging must cause to criminals, and suggests that death by a heavy shock of electricity would be instantaneous and pain less.

—It is stated, on reliable authority, that superior iron ore, yielding thirty-three per cent. of pure metal, has been found on Mr. Tarr's land, on Bailey Run, three miles above Tionesta village. This is directly up the Allegheny, about 120 miles from Pittsburgh.

—A Missouri spiritualist having been siezed with a fit of inspiration, declared that he could and would redeem any body and any thing. A skeptic handed him a Confederate note, requesting him to exercise his powers of redemption on that, at which the inspired individual wilted.

—An exchange is so overcome by the announcement that out of eight hundred and eighty persons killed by lightning in France during the last thirty years but two hundred and forty were females that it shouts "who wouldn't be a female. We really can't say, unless it be Susan Anthony, Anna Dickinson, Gail Hamilton and a few of that sort.

—Charles G. Leland and Macauley, the historian, evidently neither of them admired the Puritans. The former said that "a New Englander's idea of Hell was a place where everybody has to mind his own business," and the latter remarked that "the Puritans hated bear baiting not because it gave pain to the bear, but because it gave pleasure to the spectators.

—Southerners still cherish the idea that one day their worthless money will be at par; at least some southerners do, as is shown in the following from the Memphis Avalanche: "A prominent Judge yesterday paid $1500 in Confederate money for two pounds of head cheese. The day may come when he will find out that he has lost $1500 by the transaction."

—A tremendous revival is going on in the Methodist denominations in Philadelphia. In one chapel there in one evening twenty young people had their nerves so worked upon that they arose and shrieked aloud "what shall I do to be saved." In some of the other houses of worship a revival more thorough and quiet, and probably more lasting in its effects, is going on.

—Dubuque has a startling ghost, who has ice cold fingers with which he amuses himself by clutching sleeping citizens by the throat. As this treatment generally awakens the sleepers, and as the ghost is an orthodox one, who wears white grave clothes, (though where he gets them nowadays, when shrouds are no longer fashionable, we can't think,) the effect is anything but pleasant.

—The leaning tower of Pisa is said to be in a very ruinous condition and likely to fall down. It is not generally known that there are many other leaning towers. In Lucbeck, one of the four free cities of Germany, there is not one tower which is not more or less inclined from the perpendicular, and nearly every church in the town has two of these crooked fingers pointing to the sky.

—A citizen of Kaywick, Ky., has sued the postmaster of that place for four cents. It appears that he bought at separate times two postage stamps, paying five cents each time, and was refused the change by the postmaster. This is rather a strange proceeding so far south. For Mr. Parton says that Pennsylvania is the only place that coppers are used; and Mr. Parton is an honorable man.

STINKING NUISANCE CASE.

Augustus Hoevler was placed on trial for keeping and maintaining a nuisance on Butchers' Run, on the road leading to Perrysville, in the Seventh ward, Allegheny, in the nature of a glue factory, on the general complaint of property holders and citizens residing in the neighborhood. It is alleged that smells of an exceedingly noxious nature, injurious to health, are emitted from the boiling of bones and other offal matter at the establishment in carrying on manufacture of glue, manure, &c., rendering it a serious nuisance.

G. W. Evans, butcher, residing on the Sharpsburg Valley Road (Butchers' Run) testified that he never smelt as much of a smell as the smell which came from Hoevler's establishment. It was a very offensive smelling bone smell—or rather a variety of smells—stench from the boiling of bones and offal. Witness resided about four hundred yards distant from the factory; he had discovered and could distinguish a smell different from that usually arising from the boiling of bones and other offal, in the manufacture of glue, preceding the boiling; he had become pretty well acquainted with the different smells, and could distinguish the particularly peculiar and offensive one. Even in the first week (Sept.) the smell was offensive; witness had seen persons hold their noses in passing the factory, and he himself had nearly choked from the smell. On cross-examination witness said he had a slaughter-house, but not on Butchers' Run. He could not say how many slaughter houses, soap factories, pig stys, oil refineries, glue factories, and boiling establishments were on Butchers' Run, from the Allegheny city line (before consolidation of a portion of Reserve township) along the Perrysville road, for a mile beyond Hoevler's.

A draft, or rather panorama, of the locality was exhibited, with a view of showing that smells proceeded from other establishments, or that from Hoevler's for a mile up the run, within a narrow ravine, high hills on either side, there was one continuous line of kindred nuisance. It was contended, on the ground that the defendant could not escape under a cloud of stinks, or by showing that other establishments contributed in creating the variety of stinks complained of. There were other stinks, but that made by the defendant was the biggest one.

The witness on the stand (Mr. Evans stated there were soap factories, bone "boileries," &c., in the immediate vicinity of Hoevler's, and above—that there were a number of slaughter houses, the offal from which was thrown into the run which passed by Hoevler's—that there were dead hog "boileries," the stink from which was terrible, also in the run; but the stink, the king of all the stinks was the stink which came from the factory of the defendant.

Jesse Edmunds, toll keeper, who had resided on Butchers' run for seven years, testified that defendant, besides boiling bones, and collecting hog hair and cattle hair, carried on the business of bone boiling and bone grinding, which was very offensive; the smell was very sharp; witness could describe it no better than by saying it was like vinegar, horse radish or hartshorn under the nose—the effect was similar; he had passed along the road when the dust from the grinding of bones came out of the factory, passing across the road and lodging on him, and the effect of it to his nose was like that of horse radish, vinegar or hartshorn.

Jacob Craig, butcher, also gave a description of the "villainous stench," and was certain it proceeded from defendant's factory. He had a slaughter house on the road.

The case was on trial at adjournment.

False Pretense.—Wm. Breeze, a blacksmith on Strawberry alley, made information before Alderman McMasters, charging Jacob Frieksler, a contractor in Lawrenceville, with obtaining goods under false pretense. He alleges that the accused obtained work and material to the value of eighteen dollars by representing that he owned property in Birmingham. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Larceny of Meat.—Margaret Stafford, charged before Mayor Blackmore with stealing meat from a stall in the Diamond market on oath of H. Hershenreiter, was committed to jail for sheering.

Somebody's Daughter.

Several weeks since we published an account of a young woman coming to the Mayor,s office, and requesting to be committed to jail for vagrancy. She related a pitiful story, alleging that her parents were dead and that she had been brought to the city by John Cassady, a young man to whom she had been married about a year, and that her husband had been arrested and committed to jail, thus leaving her without either home or friends, dependent upon the cold charities of a heartless world for support. In compliance with her request she was committed to jail where she has remained until the present time, nothing further being known of her history until yesterday, when a letter received by a member of the police force of this city from a Mr. Lobenzeig of Utica, New York, led to an investigation of the case. The writer of the letter stated that about two years ago his daughter Lizzie, who was then between fourteen and fifteen years of age, had mysteriously left home, and all efforts to find her had proved unavailing, and having seen in the Pittsburgh papers the article above referred to, was led to believe that the young woman, the subject of the article, was his daughter. The officer visited the girl in jail, and after considerable persuasion drew from her the following story: Her name was Lizzie Lobenzeig. Her parents resided three miles from Utica, New York. Two years since, at which time she was twelve years old, while attending school, she met Cassady, her present husband, who persuaded her to elope with him, promising to place her in a good school until she had arrived at a proper age, when he would marry her. She consented, and he took her to Kittanning where they lived together for over a year, and at the end of which time, they were married by a Justice of the peace, near Kittaning. Last fall they came to this city and took lodgings with a colored family in the Seventh ward, where they resided until Cassady was arrested and committed to jail as before, which, she was turned out of the house, and having no means of support had, at her own request been committed to jail. It will be seen from the foregoing that at least a portion of her story to the Mayor was correct. She expresses no desire to return to her parents, but on the other hand refuses to leave her worthless husband. After having been informed of the circumstances, and a committitment lodged against the girl, that she may be retained in custody until her father or mother can take the necessary steps to have her return to her home.

An Appeal for Aid.

The Sisters of Mercy having charge of the Academy of St. Xavier's have issued an eloquent appeal to the charitable for assistance to enable them to rebuild the Academy recently destroyed by fire at Latrobe. They estimate their loss at $125,000 on which they had but $30,000 insurance. The property destroyed had been slowly and painfully acquired through the labor and personal exertions of the Sisters, not one dollar of it having been contributed by others. The large fortunes which some of these ladies brought with them on entering religion, and the profits accruing from their labors in the Academy, had enabled them to advance step by step until St. Xavier's had become the just pride of the Catholic community. During its existence more than one thousand young ladies from every section of the Union, and of every religious denomination, have been trained in it for the spheres of useful ness which they were destined to fill in life. The Sisters, strong in their confidence in the goodness of God, have set to work at once, with a hearty good will to repair their great loss. Already steps have been taken to rebuild the Academy, and they hope, by next September, to have one wing finished and ready for the reception of pupils. But to carry out this design, it becomes necessary for them to appeal to the public for assistance, and we are confident that their appeal will not be made in vain. Our community, especially the Catholic portion, has now the opportunity of testifying their high appreciation of an institution which, in the past, has been so fruitful in good, and will take a pride in assisting to raise it from its ashes, more beautiful and complete than before.

Read and Remember.

Not temporary, but lasting and effective, are displayed in a most wonderful degree by that potent life renewing compound sold under the name of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher. We have published in the GAZETTE during the last week some of the most astonnding cures ever recorded of any medicine. That of Mr. Fitzell, of Allegheny City, published in day before yesterday's issue, is one of them. In his case the whole system was worn to a skeleton, and the very power of life and motion. The use of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher imparted tone to the stomach and full power to the digestive system, in fact was imbued the needed material to repair the wasting frame. The decayed bones were discharged and their place supplied with new, and each muscle and organ put on renewed and wholesome vigor.

Dr. Keyser does not claim for his Blood Searcher any secret. Any physician who desires to investigate its potency will be furnished with the formula of its composition. He does claim that it is the best tonic alterative yet discovered, for he has been able to cure with it when eighteen hundred by the old dispensary did not disclose a remedy. His claims for the discovery of the roots and herbs of which it is composed the completest combination of vegetable remedies within human knowledge. It really may seem strange that under the action of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher the whole body should start to newness of life and vigor; but it is no stranger than the fact that out of the same blood that circles in the veins, bone and brain, and hair, and muscle, and even the fingers and toe nails, are secreted and produced. The many extraordinary cures performed by it here, within almost speaking distance, entitles it to the appellation of the most wonderful medicine of modern times.

Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at the Doctor's Great Medicine Depot, 140 Wood street.

Favorably Impressed.

An old gentleman from Economy, who has for a number of years made a yearly contribution of one hundred dollars to the Home of the Friendless in Allegheny City, paid a visit to that institution yesterday for the purpose of paying over his yearly installment. After delivering the money to the proper person, he expressed a desire to be shown through the establishment, which he, it appears, he was favorably impressed. He had not proceeded far before he proposed to increase his contribution to two hundred dollars. He was then taken into another department which pleased him still more, in consequence of which he added another hundred; and so he continued to increase it until he had contributed the handsome sum of seven hundred dollars. That man has a good heart.

Sunday School Entertainment.

An entertainment of a very pleasing character, consisting of a series of stereoscopic views, illustrating scenes in Bible history, temperance scenes, &c., was furnished last evening to the scholars and friends of the North Avenue M. E. Sunday School, in their beautiful school room on the corner of Beaver street and North avenue, Allegheny City. The pictures, as they successively appeared, were explained in an interesting manner by Rev. Snyder, which, added to the music and singing interspersed throughout, made the affair pass off very agreeably and rendered it altogether a gratifying success.

To Heads of Families.

It is an object of much importance to our lady readers, especially those on whom devolve the duties of housekeeping, to know where choice groceries can be purchased to best advantage. A purchasing visit will convince any person of the superior choice offered by this popular establishment.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, February 6, 1862.

The unsettled condition of the Alabama claims against England, and non-acceptance of the State Constitution, caused a firmer feeling in gold to-day. The market opened at 141¾, declined to 141¼, but rallied at the close, and was steady at 141¾. The speculative business is increasing, and the influence is evident in higher quotations for sometime to come. So long as exchange is selling ½ per cent. below the shipping point of specie, and export of coin is confined to foreign coinage, there is little danger of a rise; but should the imports increase during the present month, higher quotations may be looked for. It is pretty evident that American securities will not rise much above the present quotations; the still unsettled state of our financial policy will keep capitalists from purchasing at high rates securities of which the prompt payment might be interfered with. It is the undoubted payment of principal and interest that foreigners look to in making investments abroad.

The stock market has recovered from its depression yesterday, and there was a marked advance in Merchants' Union Express from 30 to 34¼; Fort Wayne from 100¾ to 101¾; Cleveland and Pittsburgh from 58¾ to 59¾, and New York Central from 125¾ to 127¾. Mining shares are also better, especially Corydon, which is likely to jump some day from 40 to 100 or more. The entire shares in the market are but 20,000, of which 5000 are held by one single firm, the balance is eagerly bought up all the time. Gas stocks are also better. Citizens' and Pittsburgh from 30 to 31; Fort Wayne from 100¾ to 101¾; Cleveland and Pittsburgh from 58¾ to 59¾, and New York Central from 125¾ to 127¾. Mining shares are also better, especially Corydon, which is likely to jump some day from 40 to 100 or more. The entire shares in the market are but 20,000, of which 5000 are held by one single firm, the balance is eagerly bought up at any decline, and as both these parties have control of the stock, they will put up the price as they please.

Business betrays signs of improvement, though it is as dull as any man may wish it to be.

Closing New York quotations, received by Ph. R. Mertz, are as follows:

Gold, 141¾; 1881's, 111¾; 5-20s, 1862, 111¼; 1864, 105¾; 1865, 105¾; Consols, 107¾; 10-40s, 94¾; Erie, 107¾.

—The month opens a little more brightly than was expected three weeks ago, on account chiefly of the pause in Congress regarding extreme measures some time since proposed, but there is still quiet an unsettled feeling in financial circles, and business men are anxious and troubled about the future. In connection the New York Journal of Commerce says:

"It would be easy to give great light and cheerfulness by a few very simple measures in the Financial Bill now before the House of Representatives. If Congress would pass an act allowing every man, who preferred it, the entire freedom of issuing his own notes, and enforcing enforcement of such contracts according to their own terms, relieving the banks from the burden of taxation, and cutting down useless national expenditures to correspond, there would be an immediate relief from the pressure of all classes, and a fresh impulse to trade in all parts of the country. The real anxiety of the people is for a sure basis for business to rest it, to pay all the public debt by an enormous issue of [illegible] currency, is to fill the country full of what they feel to be an insupportable burden, paralyzing their energies, and blocking the wheels of prosperity in all directions. Give them a little something to hope for, and they will renew the struggle unconquerably. We shall then hear no more of repudiation."

—The following is the text of the bill originally introduced by representative Bisbee, of Connecticut, in the House, to tax the state banks. It passed both branches of Congress precisely as Mr. Bisbee drafted it. It now goes to the President for his approval and there seems to be no doubt but that he will sign it:

Be it enacted, &c., That the words "place where the bank is located and not elsewhere," in section 41 of the act to provide a national currency, secured by a pledge of United States stock, and to amend the State within which the bank is located, and the Legislature of each State may determine and direct the manner and place of taxing all the shares of national banks located within the same, subject to the restriction that the taxation shall not be at a greater rate than is assessed upon other banks or banking capital owned by individual citizens of such State. And provided always, That the shares of any national bank owned by persons residing out of the State shall be taxed in the city or town where said bank is located and not elsewhere.

—A telegram from the Washington says: "It now appears that Secretary McCulloch has been selling Ten Forty bonds during the last week, to the amount of the gold received. Owing to the heavy demands from the War Department, on account of the Indian war and other expenditures, the Secretary found himself short of funds during the last month, and the sale was to supply this deficiency. The sale from the 1st of January will, in consequence, show a large indebtedness of the Government over that of December. The decrease in revenue receipts during the last two months, and their continued large expenditures, make further sales of these bonds to supply funds to meet the required requisitions. It is understood that the Secretary has the right to sell them under an old act of Congress, and that he has a sufficient amount of bonds on hand to meet this disease of if the exigencies of the department should require it."

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, February 6, 1862.

CATTLE.

The transactions in Cattle were again very large this week, the receipts were, in the aggregate, falling away behind those in Allegheny. Indeed, for several weeks past the operations in cattle at these yards have been insignificant, and at present East Liberty seems to be more of a transfer depot than a market for cattle. The receipts for to-day were unoccupied to-day, and the three-fourths of the Cattle arriving here are shipped on east. There were some few eastern buyers in attendance, but they were unable to get the kind of cattle they wanted at their prices, and holders would not accept less than 6½ to 7c for their stock east, and this, as a general thing, was done. Prime to extra butchers cattle may be quoted at 5 to 5¾, and even 6c, gross, while fairish butchers stock brought 7 to 7½. As will be noted below, there were several head of premium bullocks on sale, some of which were the finest offered at these yards, but none of them up to the time we have left had been sold, and it is probable that they, too, would have to be shipped east. Nearly all of the cattle arriving here are from Ohio, and the supplies in Baltimore, instead of coming out here, it is alleged that they can buy to better advantage in that market, and, besides, it is much more convenient to the feeders to get to the points being much less.

Glass, Laffey & Co. sold 17 head good oxen, averaging 1600, to Peter Klemen at 7.65.

Foulger & Taylor to Klemen 17 head of fairish steers, averaging 1400, at 7¼; 18 head of common cows and heifers to same, at 5½; 12 head to Mr. Snyder, which, added to the music and singing interspersed throughout, made the affair pass off very agreeably and rendered it altogether a gratifying success.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, February 6, 1862.

CRUDE—The crude market continues quiet and rather dull. The speculative character of transactions are very meagre, prices are unchanged. We can report a sale of 1000 bbls, on spot at 7½c, and 1000 bbls for all this month at 7c. We are cognizant of an offer to sell 800 bbls for any three months in which to deliver, at 8c. March and April are still quoted at 7½ to 7¾c offered, and be asked—seller's option, and May is quoted at 8c offered, and 8½c asked, same option. For all the year, buyer's option, the last reported—some weeks ago—was 7½c, and we know of no sales at that figure. Reports from Oil City report the market unchanged.

REFINED—There is no improvement to note in the general tone of the market for bonded oil, either as regards demand or prices, and extreme dullness is still the leading feature of the trade. We can report a sale of 100 bbls for the last half of February to-day, and for September at 16½c,
